

Satellite radio is one of the best products introduced in many years for the travelling business person like me. It is simple to use, it works everywhere and is digital quality. One channel guide for all of the USA. Do not take away their ability to provide the services I need that make my life easier everyday. The FCC should promote competition, not limit it.